

Extended
Abstract
Submission
Deadline

February 8,
2019

Early registration
deadline:

March 8,
2019

The aim of this symposium is to bring together exercise physiologists, systems biologists, circadian biologists, nutritional experts, and other strategic leaders at the intersection of energy management in health and disease to accelerate the rate of our mechanistic understanding of the beneficial effects of exercise and its integration with nutrition toward tailored personalized medicine.

Keynote speakers

Johan Auwerx, Switzerland

Elizabeth McNally, USA

Speakers

Molly Bray, USA

Mark Febbraio, Australia

Paul Greenhaff, UK

Karyn L. Hamilton, USA

John Hawley, Australia

Pernille Hojman, Denmark

David James, Australia

Andrew Jones, UK

Bente Kiens, Denmark

Katja Lamia, USA

Beth Levine, USA

K. Sreekumaran Nair, USA

Eric Olson, USA

Satchidananda Panda, USA

Stuart Phillips, Canada

Kei Sakamoto, Switzerland

Bruce Spiegelman, USA

Juleen Zierath, Sweden

Organizers

John Hawley, Australian Catholic University, Australia

Juleen Zierath, Karolinska Institutet, Sweden

Nikla Emambokus, Editor-in-Chief, Cell Metabolism

Matt Beymer, Editor, Trends in Endocrinology and Metabolism

cell-symposia.com/exercisemetabolism-2019

cell.com/symposia